
Overview

This standard identifies the requirements associated with safeguarding which must permeate all your work with children. The standard addresses the need to establish your own understanding about safeguarding and what you must do in cases of actual or potential harm or abuse. The requirements also include implementing practice that helps children to feel safe and valued, supporting rights and inclusion and developing children's awareness of personal safety and keeping themselves safe.

Additional Information

Scope/range related to performance criteria

The details in this field are explanatory statements of scope and/or examples of possible contexts in which the NOS may apply; they are not to be regarded as range statements required for achievement of the NOS.

The use of the terms 'child' or 'children' in this standard may refer to your work on an individual or group basis.

Note: Where a child or young person finds it difficult or impossible to express their own preferences and make decisions about their life, achievement of this standard may require the involvement of advocates to represent the views and best interests of the child or young person.

Where there are language differences within the work setting, achievement of this standard may require the involvement of interpreters or translation services.

A child's background is the child's unique mix of personal experiences, history, culture, beliefs, preferences, family relationships, informal networks and community.

Children are those with whom you are working, except where otherwise stated

Communication may include using the child's preferred spoken language, the use of signs, the use of symbols or pictures, writing, objects of reference, communication passports, other non verbal forms of communication; human and technological aids to communication

Electronic communications may include the use of mobile phones and the internet, including social networking sites.

Key people are those who are important to a child and who can make a difference to his or her well-being. Key people may include family, friends, carers and others with whom the child has a supportive relationship.

Others are your colleagues and other professionals whose work contributes to the child's well-being and who enable you to carry out your role

Relationships may include those developed over a period of time or those established in a situation where immediate care or support is required.

Safeguarding is working with individuals, children, young people and their families to take all reasonable measures to ensure that the risks of harm are
